ABOUT ME

I see architecture as a way to navigate life — a method to research and understand the sense of spaces. Born in Sakarya, educated in French in Istanbul, formed as an architect in Torino, now learning Japanese in Osaka. Working with clay taught me that shapes can express feelings; I use this idea when I explore forms in 3D modeling, at a different scale. I learn best by doing things myself, watching closely, and trying again, because life is always changing and design helps me make sense of it.

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Architecture (Laurea), Politecnico di Torino

09/2021 – 12/2025

Team-based design studios across varying scales; site visits and fieldwork; thesis interest in Turkic dwelling culture and its translation into contemporary architecture.

Saint Michel French High School, Istanbul

09/2016 – 06/2021

French-language education in a French-Turkish environment; trained the habit of asking what lies behind an idea.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Marco Visconti Architects, Torino

10/2023 – 06/2024

Architecture intern

First real experience in architectural practice: competition and concept phases, turning design ideas into buildable solutions; models and drawings in Blender and AutoCAD within a diverse team.

Freelance Architectural Visualization, Turin / Sakarya

2023 – 2024

3D artist

Exterior and interior renders for architects and private clients; concept renders and spatial studies translating design intent into clear visual narratives under real deadlines.
